Bit Group

Cambridge, MA

My position at Bit Group allowed me to take on many different roles within the User Experience team; continuing as a visual designer but also undertaking iterative design, prototyping, user research, SEO, content auditing, heuristic evaluations, usability, and leading several focus groups. As the Senior User Experience Designer, client interaction and project management was required daily, as well as impeccable communication and organization skills.

Hunt & Gather

Allston, MA

While working at Hunt & Gather as Senior Designer and User Experience Expert, I architected, designed, and developed many websites, content management systems, and mobile applications always communicating directly with clients from start to finish. Beginning with the site architecture, wireframes, and design development, I took on many responsibilities as not only a web site designer, but also as an information architect. Working side-by-side with the Creative and Art Directors, my design skills and work ethic flourished within the fast-paced and highly-collaborative office. Hunt & Gather has been recognized by many creative organizations, and received a 2008 MITX award for the CRV website, for which I was the lead designer.

12/05 - 8/07

Keane, Inc.

Cambridge, MA

As a Senior Visual Designer at Keane Architecture Services, I worked closely with the Project Managers and Business Analysts, producing project proposals, sales and marketing collateral within the Solutions Group. Within the User Experience Group I executed User Experience, User Interface, and Rich Internet Application designs. While working at Keane, I also expanded my experience in Information Architecture, System Architecture, Web Development and coding, and Business Analysis.

9/03 - 12/05

Hawthorn Publications

Portsmouth, NH

As the Senior Designer and Web Designer at Hawthorn Publications, my responsibilities included web design and development, brochure design and print management, branding, collaborating and strategizing with clients and the design team. As well as leading the design team, I also managed our client relationships as well as project management within the Creative Group.
